

IN TANDEM
REPORT FOR 2021-22

Research Clubs play a vital role in shaping the research acumen of postgraduate students and research scholars. With this principle in view, the Department of English ventured to streamline activities of their Research Club for the year 2021-22. A schedule for the academic year showcasing vistas for research was prepared. Much to the satisfaction of the organisers, the club was able to function as per schedule and conduct 20 sessions. The Department chose the 14th of July 2021 as the date for the Inaugural session of the club as it is the founding day of the college. The club meets on a fortnightly basis. The themes for the meets are planned in advance. Each session has 2 to 4 paper presenters and a Chairperson. Apart from faculty of the Department, the presence of the two patrons, Dr. Samuel Rufus, Associate Professor of English, Madras Christian College and Dr.R.Sreelatha, Associate Professor & Head (Retired), Department of English, Chellammal Women's College are a great boon to the students as the feedback received helps the student-presenters to fine tune their research papers which they present at the meet.

The Waves of Ecocriticism

- Ecocriticism – Ecological implications and human-culture relationships
- The wave metaphor suggested by Lawrence Buell
- The first wave – industrialization, wilderness preservation, Anglo-American focus
- Second Wave – Environmental Justice, urban and suburban environments
- Third Wave – “ecogenders ethics and national particularities and yet transnational ethics and national boundaries: this third wave explores all kinds of human experience from an environmental viewpoint” (Johnson and Hines)
